ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA.

May 24—With 305 enemy aircraft destroyed in the last four days against a total of only 16 Allied craft lost, smashing

new blows by British and American bombers against the islands of Pan-telleria and Sardinia were announced by Gen. Dwight

D. Eisenhower today.

The new Pantelleria attack was featured by use of four thousand pound "blockbuster" bombs, which caused large fires and complete destruction in many areas. The whole island was said to have rocked with explosions.

Repeated Attacks

On three separate occasions yesterday planes of Maj. Gen. James

H. Doolittle's northwest African air force pounded Pantelleria, and after sunset British Wellingtons went in with two-ton bombs to complete the job. The German air force, doubtless feeling its position heavy losses, failed to put in an appearance. The Allied raiders were not challenged.

The Allied successes included nine ships sunk or damaged off Pantelleria and in Sardinia's Carloforte harbor plus vast devastation to airfield and port facilities. The shattering attacks on Pantelleria were inaugurated by P-40 Warhawks, which battered gun emplacements on the coast, followed by B-

25 attacks against the docks, where usual.

There was plenty of plowing done by farmers on the week-end, when several days of clear sunny weather

Jap Bombers Make New Attack On Attu

By JOSEPH A. BORS

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 24—For the second time within 24 hours the navy today reported a wave of Japanese bombers over the Aleutians, but added that U. S. fighter planes drove off the squadron, shooting down five of the 16 enemy planes.

Concerning ground fighting on

Attu island there, the navy said that "the presence of U. S. forces against pockets of Japanese resistance on Attu island continues."

"A number of enemy points of resistance have been liquidated," the navy declared.

The second wave of Japanese bombers came over the eastern part of Attu yesterday afternoon

but were intercepted by six army

Lightning fighters.

"Five of the enemy bombers were shot down," the navy said.

"One U. S. fighter is missing.

Another fighter was shot down, but the pilot was rescued."

Presence of the bombers indicated the Japanese were making a desperate attempt to check the American offensive against Attu, on which remnants of enemy troops have been trapped by U. S. ground forces.

ment Is Noted

Another state wide air raid drill and blackout occurred Sunday night but found Lawrence county air raid wardens on the job and the public co-operating. The Yellow alert came at 9 o'clock, the Blue warning

at 9:20, the Red warning at 9:35,

the second Blue at 9:50 and the all clear at 9:59.

At 9:59, exceptions, business houses and homes were blacked out shortly after the blue warning sounded. The one difficulty that still crops up every time an air raid drill is held is the misunderstanding concerning driving automomobiles.

Automobiles are permitted to drive under normal conditions during the Blue alert, said OGD

Executive Director L. B. Round.

Air raid wardens are not to stop cars except to see that the cars are being driven with proper lights.

PARKING LIGHTS are not proper driving lights at any time. Normal driving lights are to be used.

When the Red alert sounds, all traffic is to stop, said Mr. Round, save for authorized cars and those cars will carry the OGD pennant in front. Cars with pennants are

NOT to be stopped at all. When the second Blue alert is sounded normal traffic is to be resumed but home and business lights are to be restored until the All

Clear goes.

NO CHANGE IN

GROUND STATUS

By JOSEPH A. BORS

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 24—American forces on Attu today continued to mop up Japanese stragglers despite the enemy's desperate attempt to disrupt the United States offensive by sending bombers into the North Pacific today.

The Navy's latest front line report stated that 15 twin-engine Japanese bombers "unsuccessfully attacked" two American surface vessels in the Western Aleutians.

Concerning ground activity on At-tu, the Navy said there was "no change in the general situation," indicating that American forces still were mopping up the remnants of Japan's troops on that island.

Base Not Known

The Navy failed to state where the Japanese bombers came from but it was presumed that they flew into the Aleutian war zone from Japanese bases in the Northern Kuriles, about 800 miles west of At-tu.

However, there also was a possibility that the planes may have taken off from an aircraft carrier. The Japanese have been operating twin-engine bombers from aircraft carriers for sometime.

The United States bombed Tokyo last year by flying twin-engine bombers from the Aircraft Carrier

Hornet when it was about 800 miles from the Japanese capital.

The Japanese on Kiska have been working on an airfield but it was not believed to have been completed.

Kiska has been bombed heavily by American forces from the nearby

Island of Amchitka.

This was the first mention of Japanese planes in force in the Aleutians since mid-March when sight U. S. Lightning fighter planes encountered an equal number of Jap aircraft and shot down two of the Nipponese planes.

Pennsylvania Train With 1200 Passengers Aboard
In Wreck Last Night

HUNDRED HURT AS CARS UPSET

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J., May 24—In a candidate statement, the Pennsylvania

Railroad today blamed its own engineer for the tragic train wreck in which 14 persons, including an infant, were killed at nearby Delair.

Of the dead, eight were men and five women. More than 100 passengers were injured and hundreds of others were severely shaken up.

After receiving hospital treatment, all but 24 of the injured were permitted to continue their journeys.

1200 Passengers Aboard

Crowded to the doors with more than 1200 passengers—week-enders

and soldiers enroute from Atlantic

City to New York—the 15-coach train lurched from the tracks on a 14 degree curve or "horseshoe bend"

two miles north of Camden shortly after 10 o'clock last night. The locomotive and seven coaches immediately following leaped the rails, ripping up hundreds of feet of trackage. Three of the cars overturned, dumping masses of debris in which many of the victims were trapped until emergency crews burned out portions of the coaches with acetylene torches.

Railroad men found the locomot-ive's throttle closed and the reverse bar hooked back tight. This indicated, veteran railroaders said, that the engineer, C. J. Pitcock, 79, of Lambertville, N. J., was attempting to stop the racing night express.

Blame Engineer

Following a 12-hour, night-long investigation, W. C. Higgenbottom, general manager of the carrier's eastern region, announced the engineer apparently was responsible for the wreck. In violation of orders, the engineer, who escaped with minor cuts, was exceeding the speed limit on the curve.

In the pandemonium and hysteria, one of the victims, a dying woman, reportedly gave birth to a four small vessels were hit. Subsequent bombs struck the inner and outer moles, setting them and nearby warehouses afire.

Third Attack
The third attack was carried out by B-25 Marauders, which paid chief attention to the air field. Hits were observed on all targets.

By the time the Wellingtons completed the job with their four-thousand pounders, Pantelleria was a smoking pandemonium. Exactly planned throughout yesterday was Sardinia P-38's raided in three separate formations, hitting a 200-foot coastal vessel in Caroforte harbor and sinking three other ships. The Lightnings then swung to adjoining Piana Island, where barracks gun emplacements and a radio tower were attacked. Another formation of Lightnings bombed important zinc works at Iglesias north of Caroforte. Hits were observed over a wide area.

Pantelleria must now be largely a shambles.

OVER 2,000 TONS OF BOMBS DROP UPON DORTMUND

war was made against Dortmund on May 4, when the greatest number of four-engined bombers ever employed in a single night's operations dropped nearly 1,500 tons of bombs on the city, including 8,000 and 4,000-pound blockbusters.

Air circles said "several hundred" more bombers attacked Dortmund last night than the number of planes employed in the May 4 raid, indicating the greatest air fleet ever sent from British bases took part in the mission.

Every Type Bomb
Every type and weight of bomb, from incendiaries to 8,000-pounders, were dropped by the planes, which were predominately huge four-engined ships. The total weight of bombs rained on Dortmund was said to be "considerably in excess" of that dropped in the May 4th attack, suggesting that nearly 2,000 tons of explosives probably poured on the vital war center.

Majority of the bombs "went smack on the targets," preliminary reports said. Observers said the RAF's losses were small considering the vast number of planes employed.

Fifty miles from Dusseldorf, Dortmund is the center of extensive coal basins and iron ore beds. A vital rail junction, it is connected with the River Rhine by the 170-mile-long Dortmund-Ems canal.

One of the first aims to cross the target said weather and visibility were perfect for bombing.

Huge Columns Of Smoke
"I saw the river and the broad roads quite clearly," he said, "Incendiaries already were burning and white lights turned to red as the fires caught. I saw a particularly large fire in the western area of the town as I made my bombing run."

Another pilot said there was a huge column of smoke "with great fires burning at its base as I arrived over Dortmund."

Anti-aircraft fire was fairly intense at the beginning of the attack but died down considerably as the assault developed, almen said. Searchlight comes split up into ones and twos, indicating the defenses were "swamped" with the intensity of the attack. Single searchlight beams "wandered aimlessly over the sky," one pilot said.

The last bomber over the target, according to its crew members, encountered "flak so moderate it didn't bother us."

Germans Retaliate
Roaring deep into the continent, the night-flying warbirds—after a one-night layoff Saturday—brought the war to the Reich again in the wake of widespread daylight attacks on Axis shipping and industrial targets in Belgium.

The German air force carried out sharp raids on three English towns Sunday in retaliation for the RAF's continental blows, which included damaging of three Nazi ships in two coastal convoys and a strong attack on coke ovens at the Belgian port of Zeebrugge.

At least three Nazi fighter-bombers were shot down during the daylight hit-and-run raids on towns on England's south and southwest coasts. During the evening a third attack was made against a north-east coast town, adding to the day's list of civilian casualties and making many more homeless.

baby which soon died. Railroad officials said they had not been able to confirm this report, although an infant was among the dead. Railroad detectives did report, however, that a woman bystander—a resident of the area—gave birth while on the scene of the tragedy.

Known Dead
The Pennsylvania railroad identified the known dead as H. N. Becker, a fireman, C. H. Dohr, the train conductor, both of New York; C. C. Horn, 248 E. Hanover St., Trenton, N. J.; Bennie Schapiro, 126 Midland Ave., Montclair, N. J., and Louis Schapiro, 126 Cannon St., New York.

The other nine dead, including three men, five women and an infant, have not been identified.

Seventy-three passengers have been admitted to hospitals, a railroad spokesman said, and 24 were forced to remain for further treatment.

The engineer of the train, C. J. Pidcock of Lambertville, escaped with only slight injuries.

The accident occurred at 10:08 p. m. as the train rounded a curve near a water tower at Delair, N. J., a suburb of Camden.

The train was regular Pennsylvania passenger coach train and most of the passengers were returning to New York after spending a holiday on the New Jersey sea shore.

The reason why slots are always built in a cylindrical form is in order to leave no corners where air spaces might form and cause spoilage of the slage.

Promise Jail Sentences For Crap-Shooters

Jail sentences await crap shooters who flaunt law here by staging crap games in centrally located places, according to Mayor Charles B. Mayne.

He promised the sentences today in police court because he said the police bureau was flooded with complaints yesterday and police had to make three trips Sunday afternoon.

Two police trips were required to the Home, South Jefferson and Mill streets district and one call was answered to an alley in the rear of Long avenue.

Police arrested three persons, all young boys. The others fled. Two placed $10 forfeits and failed to appear. In police court today a young boy was discharged after the mayor delivered his ultimatum.

FIFTEEN MINUTES FROM THE FOE

WINSTON CHURCHILL'S striking remark, as reported by Mrs. Roosevelt, that "in Great Britain there is no place more than 15 minutes away from the enemy," emphasizes the constant strain which the British people on the home front have been undergoing ever since the beginning of the war.

Long ago, for generations, the British feared invasion by the French, while knowing they would have ample warning. The stormy Channel was their protection. Even in the first World War the Zeppelins took hours for their ominous journeys.

Now it's a matter of minutes—five or six—for German bombers to hop across, and in a few minutes more they are over London and other interior cities.

So long as the Germans hold the French ports they are at Britain's doorstep. In a little more time than it takes a bus to travel from the Seventh ward to uptown New Castle, enemy messengers of death can wing their way from occupied France to the British capital.

Prime Minister Churchill's recent renewed exhortation to his country's home guard to be doubly vigilant, in these days of Hitler's increasing desperation as the tide of battle turns against him, was inspired by the continuing peril. The enemy's air reconnaissances over Britain during the last few days gave added importance to the warning.

OUTSMARTING TOJO

It is beginning to be apparent why the United States lags behind Tokyo in announcing important battles between forces of the two powers. It will be recalled that Washington was mute about the bombing of Tokyo. The news was first given the world through the Tokyo radio denying that there had been a raid and then admitting it. Washington gave Tokyo opportunity to go out on a propaganda limb.

The same was true of naval engagements. Japan rushed to the radio to broadcast claims of victories. Then came official reports from Washington giving facts. Japanese must have heard these reports despite Tokyo's strict ban against the listening in on foreign stations.

In the battle for Attu the same procedure was followed. Tokyo this time was wary with its radio reports. It didn't spring to the air with flamboyant claims. The change in policy of Tokyo's release of war news is an admission that the crafty Japs have been outsmarted by the simple means of telling the truth.

Tokyo has learned a lesson. It finds that falsifying the news does not win battles. It paved the way to break bad news about Attu by hinting that the United States, with superior forces, would overrun the island.

SCIENCE AND COLDS

Pneumonia and influenza and kindred diseases have in their time taken an enormous toll. In the period of the last war the influenza germ, spreading across continents, was responsible for almost as many fatal casualties as were due to the war directly. Medical science has made great progress in recent years in curbing the ill effects of these natural enemies of mankind, but they still stalk the earth. But at last there is a chance of eradicating them from the places where they can do the most harm.

According to the war department's civilian epidemiological board, a new chemical solution, described as an anti-sneeze mixture, will destroy the micro-organisms of these diseases in no time at all. A thimbleful of the chemical, known as triethylene glycol, sprayed about a large room such as an armory barracks, will kill all the pneumococci and streptococci or like germs within a few minutes.

As developed at Chicago university, the compound can be manufactured cheaply enough, it is declared, to be used to sterilize the air of large buildings and auditoriums. Buses are not mentioned, but surely they should be included.

It will take time doubtless to make the solution available in large quantities. But if its effects are as represented, what a boon it will be, even as to the common cold, in escaping the consequences of the careless coughing and sneezing of which everyone is a potential victim.

HE NEVER MADE THE WHITE HOUSE

However he may have met his end—and the official Tokyo statement that he was killed in air combat wears a dubiously overdone look—the death of Admiral Yamamoto deprives Japan of her Number One naval and air leader, the commander-in-chief who was the artificer of the stab-in-the-back attack on Pearl Harbor.

It also removes a fanatic who had made a career out of hating the United States and whose most cherished ambition was to "dictate the peace" to America in the White House.

He has not realized that ambition. The White House is still free of Japanese vermin. Yamamoto never managed to get around to leading his war fleet up the Chesapeake. He dies when the tidal wave of the offensive is rolling back toward his island home, when the Americans he despised are delivering hatchet blows at the middle and at both ends of the long sea-line his ships and planes had so laboriously built as a stepping-off place for the invasion of our shores.

The treacherous assault on Pearl Harbor was his contemptible masterpiece and it came close to giving him command of the whole Pacific at one blow. He followed that up with the sinking of the Prince of Wales and the Repulse off Malaya, the rout of the small Dutch and American Asiatic fleets and the naval and air operations that helped plant the Rising Sun on new-born territory from Attu to the Solomons, from Wake to the Indian frontier.

Yamamoto may have been rehearsing his White House speech in those days of triumph. But he must have forgotten his lines when he was defeated in the Coral Sea, smeared at Midway, blasted in the Solomons and devastated in the Bismarck Sea.

Maybe that is the answer to his sudden death. His victories have been turning to ashes. His precious carriers and planes are being blotted out. His road to Washington has turned into a seaway to Tokyo, with the hated Americans on the march. Yamamoto had been losing face. Losing his life was but a next step. Hara-kiri can be committed in an airplane, too—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Franco has reason to become increasingly despondent at the lack of results of his "peace" efforts as he reads the war news.

Americans have sent 4,300,000 letters to the A.E.F. in North Africa. The girls at home are keeping in touch with the boys who are cleaning up the Axis.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHECK NEEDED ON CHILDREN

In many population centers, especially those with many large war industries or near camps of armed forces, many youths, particularly girls from 10 to 16, are frequenting night clubs and taverns at an increasing rate and are buying liquor freely and consorting with strange men there.

Many of these youngsters are given money freely by their parents and thousands of these youths are earning fabulous wages on part time jobs, even while attending school. Most states do have laws forbidding the sale of liquor to minors but where are such laws enforced? The tavern man, when challenged, may say he has no way of knowing how old a person is by looking at him or her. If a policeman hauls in a girl or boy he may have great difficulty to prove him or her a minor. Even some parents, especially so-called good parents, will lie to defend their child delinquency.

Right now, every child between the ages of ten and eighteen should be required to carry on his person a card which properly certifies his or her age. This could be officially issued on the basis of the school census report. Such an identification card would be very desirable in enforcing a curfew law applied to children or taverns.

Privileged In Majority

Apparently it is the children of the so-called better homes who are the majority in taverns, night clubs and midnight shows. Anyway, if all parents of education and influence, all that are looked up to in their respective communities, were to gain a sense of responsibility for their own children and other people's children home when they should be home and away from taverns, night clubs and midnight shows, many less-privileged parents would soon imitate them and juvenile delinquency and crime would soon take a drop instead of going on at the present upsurge.

If you are a PTA leader, or any other civic or church group, or just interested in knowing your town or city's youth and what they are doing at night, let me advise you and your husband to spend several nights going about your city visiting taverns, night clubs and midnight shows, to observe the number of children there.

Often I have said in this column that if most of the "good" parents of any town or city were to control their children, and keep them off the streets at night, providing good recreation for them in their homes and properly supervised recreation for them in their communities, we would not be losing so many children to the army of delinquency and crime.

Solving Parent Problems

Q Do you consider it harmful to the moral character of a child to be habitually late to school or Sunday school?

A Yes; I do; and parents usually are to blame.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON—Charles E. Wilson, executive vice-chairman of War Production Board: "While we produced almost twice as many planes last month as we did in April, 1942, their total was almost three times greater."

HOT SPRINGS, Va.—Rep. Frederick C. Smith of Ohio: "The so-called food conference is one of the most diabolical things ever perpetrated upon the American people."

WASHINGTON—Frank Knox, secretary of the navy: "The situation on Attu is a good deal like the situation in Tunisia when the enemy was left on Cape Bon peninsula."

LONDON—Sir Archibald Sinclair, British air secretary: "There is only one hope of getting to Berlin without the slaughter which the land battles of the last war entailed and that is by the paralysis of German war power by the bomber command."

FLIES

In warm weather flies hatch out by millions. They are a nuisance. They annoy animals and people. They carry disease on their feet.

By putting up screens early in the season, the flies may be kept out of the house.

Sick people especially should be protected from flies. The flies annoy the patient and they carry the disease to other people.

If you get manure to fertilize the garden, spread it and plough it under right away. Do not let it stand in a pile. That is where flies grow and multiply the best.

One little pile of manure can produce enough flies to pester the whole neighborhood.

If you must store manure awhile, put it on a concrete or tight board floor. The young flies must get down into the ground to develop. Keep the swatter going.

Hints On Etiquette

If the bridegroom is in the armed forces and has only his uniform to wear at the wedding, the rest of the wedding party should be dressed informally.

High-heeled shoes and "wedgies" were worn in Europe as early as the 18th century.

Shining the ship's bell is a duty relegated to the ship's cook! It's the tradition.

Honesty is the best policy, provided there are no mental reservations in small time.

We learned the folly of bunching planes on the ground. Can't we ever learn not to bunch key men in one plane?

Didja ever hear about the small child who found a pressed leaf in the family Bible, and hurrying to her mother, announced excitedly: "mother, look! I've found a part of Eve's dress!"

In Washington, when there is nothing more to say, the rule is to keep on talking.

When there is talk of saving paper it makes you think of the lot of rot you get in the mail and don't care for.

A lot of people will learn the difference between a radish and a slice trombone if they make a Victory Garden.

McNutt says overtime pay is not inflationary, since it means extra production. But does time-and-a-half insure production-and-a-half?

Several Marines were watching a game of poker in which the stakes were heavy. It was just after pay day when one of them saw a play-er give himself four aces from the bottom of the pack.

Indignant at such shameless cheating, he turned to one of his companions and whispered: "Did you see that?"

"See what?"

"Why that fellow dealt himself four aces."

"Well," answered the other, wasn't it his deal?"

Solving a war problem is easy. The hard part is thinking up enough complications to drive people crazy.

Our chief trouble is that too many patriots hope to win the war without any personal unpleasantness.

"Fine, yes, bless it," cried Connie. "Excellent, God Bless it," improved the echo.

"Will you have a drink?" asked Connie.

CURIOUS CYNIC COSTS

When money is tight, so are morals; when money is easy, so is virtue.

She is the kind of person who thinks to gossip about righteousness is just vicious naughtiness.

It did not develop quite as unqualifiedly as he appears to have planned in advance, but it has been effective enough to have antagonized the reporters, the cartoonist and the radio crew pretty close to 100 per cent.

This aggregation, taken quite by surprise for it had assumed that the White House tenant would recognize his dependency upon publicity, was rather slow in assessing the situation accurately.

Hence it was caught "off-base."

It did not immediately comprehend that it could throw a serious crimp into the presidential program by semi-ignoring it or by giving it the horse-laugh.

Ye a few days ago a Washington columnist, a lady columnist, appropriately remarked that the Hot Springs conference had become a "comic" by reason of the administration's management of it. It was indeed a "josh" throughout.

Today the not-formally-agreed-on, but quite generally acquiesced-in journalistic device is to the effect that the "professional" system is to play down the House stuff.

The proposition is that the White House has been offensively too "smart."

It has gotten away with it thus far—but can it keep it up much longer? The question is, can it be so "sassy" as to the press?

The issue is not so much as F. D. R. agreed with, but is he as dictator as he thinks he is?

"Connie" who is now a sergeant and stationed somewhere in England writes to tell the column of an experience he recently had while on furlough in Scotland. A guide told him that the echo on Loch Gill was very fine. So off he went to hear it, and so swiftly did he hire two elderly men to row him out to the center of the loch where the echo could best be heard that there was no time for the local natives to arrange for the usual echo to be in attendance.

When they had reached the center of the loch, Connie cried: "Good morning!"

"Good morning!" came back the echo with a rich burr.

"Fine, yes, bless it," cried Connie. "Excellent, God Bless it," improved the echo.

"Will you have a drink?" asked Connie.

"Hoot Man, That I will," roared the echo.

"Nope, Connie didn't get a rebate on the florin he paid for the hire of the boat . . . and the echo.

President May Have Pulled Boner With Press
Angry Reporters May Play Down Food Confab
President Was Creator Of International Meet

By CHARLES P. STEWART

(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The press may adopt a new line of strategy in covering President Roosevelt's next international conference relative to post-war co-operation between the affiliated democracies.

The current food confabulation at Hot Springs, Va., was scheduled to be only the first of quite a prolonged series of such gatherings. All sorts of economic, financial, commercial, social and assorted mutual problems are to be adjusted collectively in a succession of chats among the interested peoples' representatives, with that Hot Springs affair as the initial one—of capital importance, to be sure.

The point is that this sequence of gatherings is an idea, essentially President Roosevelt's own. It is his brain-child. British Prime Minister Winston Churchill has lent loyal aid in giving birth to the little critter, but it was not his conception in the first place.

That F. D. R. is proud of his off-spring hardly requires saying.

The president obviously reckons that its advent marks the beginning of a new and better world and is stuck on going down into everlasting futurity as its inventor.

Where he appears to have erred is in assuming that he can establish such a reputation without a good bit of contemporary advertising.

Else how does it happen that he clamped on so irritating a censorship as his regulations at Hot Springs? It did not develop quite as unqualifiedly as he appears to have planned in advance, but it has been effective enough to have antagonized the reporters, the cartoonist and the radio crew pretty close to 100 per cent.

This aggregation, taken quite by surprise for it had assumed that the White House tenant would recognize his dependency upon publicity, was rather slow in assessing the situation accurately.

Mad Dog Breaks Loose Sunday, Biting Two Persons
And Several Dogs

All dogs in the Bessemer community have been placed under a 100-day quarantine by Sheriff Clyde D. Badger, it was announced today. The action was made necessary by the fact that a dog owned by Tony Glasco, and said to have had rabies, got loose, bit two persons and several other dogs, and was not apprehended and killed until this morning.

Any dogs found running at large in the Bessemer district will be shot on sight during the quarantine period, Sheriff Badger states.

WINCEK-BLIZMAN WEDDING SATURDAY

Miss Dorothy Geraldine Wincek, daughter of Samuel Wincek, of 507 Waldo street, and James William Blizman, son of Mrs. Julia Blizman, of Zelenople, were united in mar-riage Saturday morning, the im-pressive service being performed in St. Michael's church, at 11 a. m., with Rev. Fr. William M. Piscarcik, officiating, assisted by Rev. Fr. Vin-cent O'Donnell. The single ring ser-vice was used.

Vows were exchanged by the young couple in the presence of a host of friends, and before a nicely arranged altar.

The bride given in marriage by her brother, John, of Ellwood City, was charming in a white satin gown, made en train, with sweetheart neck-line. Her net veil was caught with a crown of orange blossoms, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis. A gold cross was her only jewelry.

Miss Anna Wincek, was her sis-ter's maid of honor, wore a blue chiffon gown, matching accessories, and carried red roses and sweet-peas. Betty Bagosi, of Ellwood City, as bridesmaids wore a pink chiffon gown, and carried red roses.

John Blizman served his brother as best man, and ushering was Joseph Solter. A congratulatory period followed at the church, and a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride where a reception was held later. Mr. and Mrs. Blizman have departed on a wedding trip, and upon their return will reside in Zelen-ople.

Mrs. Blizman, a graduate of New Castle high school, class of 1941, was employed at the Shenango Pot-tery company. Mr. Blizman, a graduate of 1935 in Zelenople, is af-filiated with the office of the Bab-cock-Wilcox company, Zelenople.

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 24.—Westminster college will be the scene of the 85th General Assembly of the United Presbyterian church of North America which opens its sessions at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, May 26. More than 200 commissioners representing 1,000 congregations and over 200,000 United Presbyterians will attend the six-day conference.

At the pre-assembly conference Tuesday evening, May 25, at 7:30 Dr. Harry J. Hager, pastor of the Bethany Reformed church of Chicago, a leader of the Dutch Reformed denomination, will speak on the theme "For Such a Time As This".

Dr. T. C. Strangeway, executive secretary of the Board of Administration, has announced the program for the pre-assembly conference. Among the special speakers will be Dr. Glenn P. Reed, corresponding secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, who is scheduled for a devotional message at each of the three sessions on the general theme "I Will Build My Church", and dealing first with "The Material", second, "The Laborer", and then "The Site".

Dr. Reed, who succeeded Dr. W. B. Anderson in the Board of Foreign Missions in 1938, was graduated from Westminster college in 1920 and from Princeton seminary in 1923. He served in the Sudan from 1923 to 1933 except when on furlough which in 1929 was extended a year while he ministered to the Pullman, Wash., congregation.

At Wednesday morning's session, Dr. C. E. Hawthorne will speak on the theme "Evangelism in the Local Church" while Dr. A. K. Stewart will talk on "Ministering to the Home Church in Wartime". "City-wide Evangelism Today" will be the topic chosen by Dr. R. W. Gibson at the morning session. Dr. R. W. Thompson will speak on the theme "Country Churches in Wartime".

The general theme for Wednesday afternoon will be "Reaching the Unreached". Dr. Ben B. Evans will speak on the subject of "The Gospel for All Americans", while Dr. H. A. Kelsey has chosen "Vision for World Evangelism" for his topic.

Under the general subject of "To the Uttermost Parts", Rev. Lowie Anderson will talk on the subject of "On the Mission Fields". Also at the Wednesday afternoon session, Rev. John Smith will speak on the topic "Beyond Our Mission Fields". Wednesday evening, May 26, at 7:30 o'clock, Moderator Thomas C. Pollock, D. D., of Philadelphia will preach the annual sermon and convene the 85th General Assembly for what promises to be one of the most important meetings in the history of the denomination. Emphasis of the denominational program for the coming year is to be on world evangelism and the messages of the conference will be along this line.

Nation Produces 175 Merchantmen In 30 Days' Time

April's All-Time Record Being Shattered This Month, Says Admiral Land

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—The greatest all time 30-day shipyard record was established last month when American shipyards turned out 175 merchant vessels, and this record is being shattered this month, Admiral Emory S. Land reported Saturday in a national Maritime Day address at San Francisco. "This rate of production is an increase of 4,000 per cent over that originally planned in the inception of the Maritime Commission's program in 1938," said Land, who is chairman of the commission and war shipping administrator.

A couple of years ago when our first emergency program was announced the Axis leaders called our program fantastic, impossible and intended to delude the American public. That program called for less than half of the tonnage we are now building. Herr Hitler and his cohorts have been answered in double measure.

By the end of May, Land reported, American shipyards will have delivered 700 new ships since the first of the year.

Admiral Land paid the highest tribute to U. S. merchant marine men and urged all merchant seamen now in other occupations to return to the sea.

Aerial Doom For Enemy Is Seen In Production Plans

U. S. Will Build Over 1,000
Heavy Bombers Per Month
By Next April

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 24—Evidence of the great aerial offensive that will be launched against the enemy was seen today in the disclosure that the United States will be turning out more than 1,000 heavy bombers a month plus numbers of new "super-bombers" by next April.

The disclosure was made by Charles E. Wilson, WPB executive vice chairman, who said that production of bombers and fighters today far overshadows the output of all other types of planes.

Wilson said that last month's output of heavy bombers, which was four times that of April, 1942, will double itself by April, 1944. Although he would not reveal the exact number of bombers turned out last month, he admitted that the figure had climbed above 500.

The WPB official made only the briefest reference to the new "super-bomber" and would not give any details on the plane or when it would be placed in action against the enemy.

"Our schedules for April, 1944, call for more than three times as many aircraft as in April, 1942, weighing six times as much," he said. "The average weight per plane this year is 30 per cent greater than last. In 1944, this figure will rise to 60 per cent."

Wilson expressed confidence that these schedules "can and are going to be met." He said that a huge aircraft plant, about the size of Willow Run, will start production in Marietta, Ga., this autumn and should be in full operation by next spring; a new WPB aircraft scheduling program is expected to break the current bottleneck of aluminum parts and no serious overall manpower problem is believed imminent during the next year.

A hemp-breaking plant-construction program is planned for 1943 in Kentucky, according to Floyd Clay, who has been appointed administrator of the federal government's hemp-producing program conducted in Kentucky and other areas.
